The house style

A document whose theme came from a finder rather than from a directory.

The theme's own `styles.yml` names the face and the colour of the heading, and the library asked the finder for both of them.